WEDDED IN COLD WEATHER. The Brilliant Union of Mr. McMahon and Miss Saunders at Onancock.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)
ONANCOCK, January 11.—The Presbyterian church of this town was filled yesterday morning with a brilliant assemblage to witness the marriage of Miss Daisy Saunders, eldest daughter of Mr. William S. Saunders to Mr. Albert McMahon, of New York city. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and potted plants. In front of the chancel rose a graceful arch of evergreens, from the centre of which hung a handsome floral bell; while on top of the arch burned waxen tapers. Mr. Lou Saunders, of Newport News, brother to the bride, and Mr. John Scott, her consin, acted as ushers. (Special telegram to the Dispatch. THE CEREMONY

WYTHEVILLE, VA., January 10.—A grand jury was empanelled on yesterday and a number of indictments made. Among the indictments was one which promises the frequenters of the court-room some fun. A school-teacher from Crockett's Depot indicted a number of the boys in his school for a holiday prans which the pedagogue failed to relish. Three or four days before Christians the boys went each morning early to the school-house and barred the teacher out. He did not seem to mind that much, however, saying that his pay went on and he did not mind a little enforced holiday under such circumstances. Thinking that he was not sufficiently teased, the boys one morning demanded that the teacher must treat to five pounds of candy or be ducked in the creek. On his refusing to set up the candy, they carried him into the water and after giving him frequent opportunities to change his mind, upon his remaining obstinate and declaring he'd "die first." they finally immersed him in the loy water, making him very uncomfortable and decidedly wrathy.

This is decidedly and emphatically wrong and leads to fears and apprehensions upon the part of persons who thus inherit a weakness of the lungs, tendency to cough, catarrh, or bronchial irritation, or a feeble, delicate, or debilitated constitution.

Of course, if such weak condition of the lungs or enfeebled state of the body is neglected, consumption and premature death will almost surely result. But, by observing proper care and making use of the proper means, all danger can be averted and good health and strength maintained. By telegraph to the Dispatch.

Winston, N. C., January II.—The thermometer at this place registered zero this norning. It is the coldest weather here

In proof of this now well-established fact we have known many affected people, or those having naturally weak and delicate THOUSANDS OF OUR CITIZENS ARE DEPRIVED OF WATER IN THEIR HOUSES BY THE RECKLESS WASTE OF THOSE WHO KEEP WATER RUNING TO AVOID THE FREEZING OF PIPES. or those having naturally weak and delicate constitutions, to continue in sound health by keeping the blood good, the nerves strong, and the digestion perfect by using that great health and strength giver. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

Many such cases are constantly occurring, but we will here cite only one, a most wonderful restoration from inherited consumption, which came under our personal observation. This lady, Mrs. Addie I. Crage, of 101 north Portland avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., stated the facts to us personally, and we will give them to our readers in her own words: LEXINGTON, VA., January 11.—The Lexington Development Company after two unsuccessful attempts to hold their annual meeting finally succeeded to-day. MRS. ADDIE I. CRAGG.

"I had poor health for several years. Have been under the treatment of many doctors, but they did me, no good. The more medicine I took the weaker I grew; was so bad at last that I could not eat or aleep, and had a cough that almost racked me to nicees. I had pains in my chest which made breathing very difficult.

"As my father, brother, and sister had died with consumption, I thought my time had come. With much pleasure and gratitude I can now say that I have been entirely cured of my troubles by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"My appetite is excellent, food digests." "I had poor health for several years

Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"My appetite is excellent, food digests early, sleep is refreshing, and altogether I feel restored to health once more.

"I most carnestly recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to all who are afflicted with obstinate chronic, nervous, or painful diseases. I have recommended it to many sufferers, and am pleased to say that it has given general satisfaction."

We should certainly advise those who and any general satisfaction."
We should certainly advise those who have any weakness of the system whatever to immediately use this remedy. It will make you well and strong again. It is not to immediately use this remedy. It will make you well and strong again. It is not one of the so-called patent medicines, but is a physician's prescription, the discovery indeed of one of our most eminent and successful specialists in curing chronic and long-standing diseases. Dr. Greene, of 35 west Fourteenth street, New York. The dector can be consulted free, personally or by letter, and this fact alone guarantees the great value of the remedy. All drugthird.
